PROFILE

As a versatile and results-driven Product Manager, I bring a unique combination of technical expertise and user-centered design to the table. With hands-on experience in UI/UX design, web development, and data analysis, I thrive in bridging the gap between user needs and business goals. My background includes proficiency in Figma for design and prototyping, the MERN stack for full-stack web development, and advanced data analysis using Microsoft Office tools to drive data-informed decisions.
